Moving the cutoff shifts the typical error by 1.0 points; one building's error varies across a range of 61 points

* needs market shares, which are not published. mean: total error over total truth; median: the typical case