

In 73 percent of real buildings the biggest material does not lead by enough for the ranking to be safe

